Shermco Industries Sponsors First-Ever PowerTest Conference App

IRVING, Texas –Today, Shermco Industries announced that it is the sponsor of the first-ever smart phone app for the PowerTest 2014 conference, recently rolled out by NETA, the InterNational Electrical Testing Association.

The app is now available for download at Apple's App Store or Google Play, so that on Monday, March 3, when electrical power system industry leaders, engineers, and technicians converge for PowerTest 2014 in Denver, Colo., they will hold an empowering new tool. The app is designed to deliver the easiest and most customizable guide to the electrical maintenance and safety event to date.

App users will be able to enhance their conference experience in many ways. They can see complete conference information on their mobile device, including seminar schedules, speaker bios, and facility maps and read up on items of interest well before the conference begins. Users can also select and create their own custom schedule of events to attend from a schedule of 27 unique, 45-minute technical presentations, a three-hour symposium on power transformers, and hospitality receptions.

"The PowerTest app is great because not only can you see, schedule and be reminded of everything you chose as important to you at the conference, but you also have maps of the areas around the hotel, hospitality suites, a hotel map with floor plans and event listings by room, as well as trade show floor plans with a complete listing of exhibitors and booth numbers," said Ron Widup, PowerTest Conference Chair. "So now, with this enormous premier event, rather than coming in overwhelmed, you can come in prepared, with a plan -- knowing exactly where everything of interest to you is and at what time."

PowerTest 2014, the Premier Electrical Safety and Maintenance Event, will be held from March 3 – 6, 2014 at the Hyatt Regency Denver. For more PowerTest details and to register, see the PowerTest website at www.powertest.org, and scan the QR code to download the app.
